

MCLL s 115

March 4, 2019

Abductions and Telepathy

..This presentation goes to the reasonable limit of what I think is established fact .. And then, in the last section, pushes the limit of what we know.

But that last limit is a very important one, and I think that we have to push that limit as far as it will go.

Samuel Johnson, MA, DCL (Oxon)

Human experience, which is constantly contradicting theory,
is the great test of truth.

Boswell's Life of Johnson, Modern Library Edition, p. 274

Following, again, the example of the English man of letters Samuel Johnson, who wrote that “Human experience, which is constantly contradicting theory, is the great test of truth,” here is a summary of what our accumulated experience of over sixty-five years tells us about extraterrestrial surveillance.

Everything in today’s material “constantly contradicts theory.” All of it is, unquestionably, human experience.

The important question is: is it true? And if it is, what do we do about it?

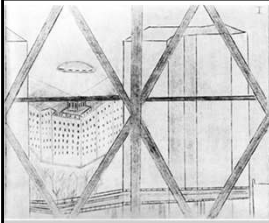

“Linda Cortile”

Budd Hopkins: Witnessed: The True Story of the Brooklyn Bridge UFO Abductions
New York: Pocket Books, 1996

I met “Linda” and another witness to this event through Budd Hopkins in the early ‘nineties.

The two abductees discussed today are people I know. I have eaten dinner with them, talked to them, and walked or driven with them. I have heard more from them than is written about them.

As far as I can tell, the accounts that they have produced under hypnosis are true (I sat in on one session for this abductee, Linda Cortile).

Linda Cortile was abducted from her apartment on November 30, 1989.

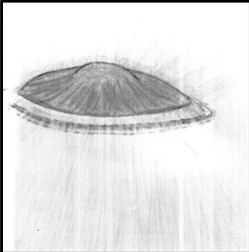

She was levitated out of her apartment by three grays through a closed window.

The abduction was seen by people whose cars had been immobilized on the Brooklyn Bridge while the abduction took place.

The arrival of the UFO was seen by a witness living in an apartment in Manhattan.

The abduction was witnessed by two US Secret Service agents as well as the high-ranking international political figure whose security convoy had been immobilized during the abduction on a surface road near the Brooklyn Bridge.

This case is of course thoroughly documented in Budd Hopkin's book, "Witnessed." I have seen some, but not all, of the original documents supporting this case, including letters from some of the principals mentioned prominently in the book and summarized above.

The two secret service agents, and the international official, remained involved in Linda Cortile's life for years following the event.

The November 30, 1989 abduction was not Linda Cortile's first abduction. This is a common pattern among abductees.

The Secret Service agents were traumatized by the event: one of them very seriously. They had been involved in previous abductions.

Linda and the ETs communicated telepathically.

It is a family abduction story; and one which involves a large cast of characters and several different locations, both terrestrial and extra-terrestrial. The book is widely available if you care to follow up for yourself.

“Sean Allen”

He is one of the abductees who has worked with David Jacobs and whose experiences are described in “Walking Among Us.” He is a successful UK businessman.

He was introduced to me by a UK academic: Young-Hae Chi, Lecturer in the Oxford School of Oriental Studies.

I met “Sean Allen” in England. Unlike Linda Cortile, his picture has never been made public, so I won’t.

We met on a trip I took to England in 2015, I gave a talk on UFOs at the invitation of an English colleague.

Don’t think that’s very special – the talk was attended by about as many people who attend each session of our course.

According to Jacobs, the job of many human abductees is to teach hybrids how to integrate into human society.

Aboard a UFO, Sean Allen teaches a hybrid to dance:

“She looks quite human...

There is no music so he has to teach her about “moving back and forth” without it.

“there were five or six pairs in the room – so I’m assuming that at least one of each pair was an abductee.”

The hybrids know nothing about human social customs: dances, etc.

The female hybrid asked Sean about manicure details and about reading from books.

His hypnotically recalled accounts are recorded in Walking Among Us.. He interacts with the late-stage hybrids describe by Jacobs: Humanoids either completely or almost completely indistinguishable from homo sapiens, but with added telepathic abilities to control human thought and action.

Sean Allen finds his I Pod missing – it is missing for three days. On the fourth day it re-appears, and then one female and two male Hubrids visit him at home – in the middle of the night.

They want to know how to use an I Pod.

Other abductees interact regularly with Hubrids who are living – either on their own or in groups – on earth. The abductees guide the Hubrids in dealing with human civilization, because everything is unfamiliar to them: from busses to PayPal to common human interactions; with store clerks, strangers on the street, etc.

As this event suggests – and as Jacobs has documented in many cases – the advanced hybrids, who he calls “Hubrids” are embedded in human society, but they are not skilled at assimilating and need a lot of help. They get it from abductees – either aboard ETVs or at home.

Sean Allen told me that he has been abducted repeatedly – as has his friend Joanna.

He described being abducted by three gray aliens while staying at hotel in, I believe, Istanbul.

Another figure who was there looked like his grandfather.

He also told me that his conscious memories of UFOs went back to his childhood.

When he was younger he also saw UFOs – not directly connected to a remembered abduction experience – on various occasions in the UK .

A common story: abductions are long-term (for one individual) and often inter-generational.

Thought control is a recurrent feature of ET and hybrid telepathic abilities.

Samuel Johnson, MA, DCL (Oxon)

Human experience, which is constantly contradicting theory,
is the great test of truth.

Boswell's Life of Johnson, Modern Library Edition, p. 274

Again, a reminder of the words of the English man of letters Samuel Johnson, who wrote that “Human experience, which is constantly contradicting theory, is the great test of truth.”

There is little if any theory to explain what this course is about. There is a lot of experience. We’re working on how much truth.

Extra-Sensory Perception

Extra-sensory perception (ESP) is not understood. Among humans it is demonstrable but unreliable; between ETs and humans it is a means of control.

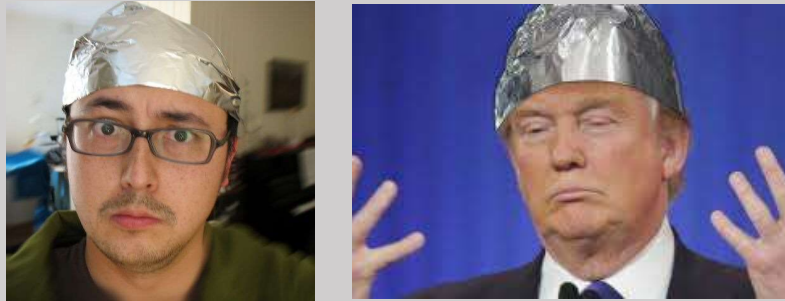

..A reminder. I am one of very few academics in this era to take any interest in what was once a very popular topic at the frontiers of psychology: Extra-sensory perception (telepathy, remote viewing, etc.) there is my published, peer-reviewed paper on the topic.

Next to it is Annie Jacobson's huge modern book on the same topic, called Phenomena, published in 2017. It's all about the US government's secret research on the topic, carried out from the end of WWII to –probably – the present.

It's real.

Can humans prevent abduction by ETs?

not this way.....

The 'tinfoil hat' is of course the snide description of the thing that deluded people wear to protect themselves from rays, coming from outside, that are trying to take over their mind. Since the turn of the 20th century, we know that electromagnetic rays penetrate the human body (e.g. x-rays) and that has led people with concerns about thought control to wear a 'tinfoil hat' to insulate their head from the thought-changing rays.

Maybe there's something to that...

....but possibly with the Thought Screen Helmet

STOP ALIEN ABDUCTIONS

For adults and children abducted by aliens from space as reported by Prof. David Jacobs, Budd Hopkins, and other investigators.

From 1999 to 2019 over 110 persons abducted by aliens have reported using thought screen helmets and hats made with Velostat.

Since 1999 only one abductee was taken while wearing a thought screen helmet with Velostat.

Most of the other abductees using thought screen helmets reported success.

Some abductees could not be reached after they tried their thought screen helmets.

<http://www.stopabductions.com/>

According to Michael Menkin the Thought Screen Helmet should be made of a conductive material called Velostat.

According to the specs, Velostat is a conductive material that will interfere with incoming microwave radiation. I can't tell you much more about the physics than just that.

THE THOUGHT SCREEN HELMET STOPS SPACE ALIENS FROM ABDUCTING HUMANS.

IT'S BEEN USED SUCCESSFULLY BY FORMER ABDUCTEES FOR TWENTY YEARS.

THIS PUBLIC SERVICE, NONPROFIT, ASSEMBLY
WEBSITE TELLS YOU HOW TO MAKE A THOUGHT SCREEN HELMET.

NEW FUNCTIONS OF THOUGHT SCREEN HELMETS

IF YOU ARE ABDUCTED BY ALIENS THE HELMET WILL WORK FOR YOU

These are the claims made by Michael Menkin on his website. He publishes the details of how to make the thought screen helmet; or he will make one for you at cost.

The Thought Screen Helmet is lined with multiple layers of Velostat

Velostat From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Velostat is a packaging material made of a polymeric foil (polyolefins) impregnated with carbon black to make it electrically conductive. It is used for the protection of items or devices that are susceptible to damage from electrostatic discharge

it is becoming popular with hobbyists for making inexpensive sensors for microcontroller experiments. One example of this is to make shoes which light up when the wearer takes a step. Since the resistance in the circuit is reduced when pressure is applied, this reading can indicate when weight is applied or removed from the shoes.^[4]

...the Wikipedia description (and some illustrations) of the material used in the Thought Screen Helmet.

Michael Menkin, inventor of the thought screen helmet

Michael Menkin was a Lieutenant (junior grade) in the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve. He is a 46 year member of the U.S. Naval Institute and a 19 year member of the Mutual UFO Network (MUFON). He is also a 32 year member of Sons of the American Revolution.

Mr Menkin, as described by himself. A fellow-member of MUFON.

According to Menkin's website:

Possible alien weaknesses (grays only)

Reliance on telepathy

When the alien's telepathic powers are neutralized by the "thought screen helmet" they do not attempt to abduct their victims. Without their telepathic power they cannot render their victims passive.

What he has done, if he is right, is actually design a "tin foil hat" that works. Since telepathy works, and involves some non-conventional communication among individuals (humans or other species) he may have found a means of partially controlling it.

According to Menkin, Grays are aggressive about abducting their “regulars.”
This is how you deal with them:

- 1. Prepare for a fight.
- 2. Have a locked cabinet.
- 3. Make the helmet quickly.
- 4. Secure the helmet with tape or string.
- 5. Don't be lured out of your current location by the aliens.
- 6. Make small holes in top for hot climates.
- 7. Wear the helmet as often as possible.

Grays won't give up without a fight, according to Menkin. They'll even try to discourage you telepathically from wearing your thought screen helmet. So keep it safe, keep it close, and wear it a lot of the time!

Samuel Johnson, MA, DCL (Oxon)

Human experience, which is constantly contradicting theory,
is the great test of truth.

Boswell's Life of Johnson, Modern Library Edition, p. 274

Again, Samuel Johnson.

We have just begin to assimilate the human experience that is encompassed by the discussions and readings in this course.